Nailsea School Staff Fined For Inappropriate Clothing Red Nose Day Special

Staff at Nailsea School are being encouraged to wear Nailsea School uniform – to raise funds for Comic Relief. The clothes swap event which sees students being invited to wear something red or come dressed as a member of staff should raise hundreds of pounds for this nationally recognised cause.

Plans are under way for the most comical Red Nose Day ever at Nailsea School, on Friday 24th March a multitude of events are planned to raise money.

Staff however need to beware – members of the Student Council will be issuing on-the-spot-fines for any violations of the Nailsea School uniform policy. Penalties will be incurred for any staff in School Uniform wearing their shirt untucked, excessive jewellery, unnatural hairstyles, trainers or jeans!

The Student Council are also hoping to up the grand total of donations with a raft of events. There will be a cake sale and two Year 11 students are taking part in a sponsored leg waxing during break time.

A lip synching battle will take place between teachers the day before Red Nose Day, which will see teachers go head to head in a dramatic battle of mime.

Other Comic Relief Day fundraisers include guess the sweets in the jar, gunge the teacher, a treasure hunt and a language challenge!
