

Characteristics of a More Able and Talent Student in Criminology

- ★ Demonstrates a thorough and in-depth knowledge and understanding of the criminal justice sector
- ★ Demonstrates a thorough and in-depth knowledge and understanding of criminal behaviour and the functions of the criminal justice sector.
- ★ Demonstrates an ability to apply undertake research using a range of techniques and use a wide range of relevant information to analyse crime-related issues and problems.
- ★ Demonstrates an ability to apply knowledge, understanding and skills accurately and independently to a range of crime-related issues.
- ★ Demonstrates an ability to evaluate evidence to draw valid conclusions and make reasoned judgements about crime-related issues.
- ★ Demonstrates an ability to use written communication which is well-structured and clearly expressed, with appropriate specialist vocabulary.
- ★ Demonstrates an enthusiasm for and desire to study the subject beyond the parameters of the syllabus.

How we support More Able and Talent Students in Criminology

- ★ Ensure we refer to new and current developments relating criminal justice to update student knowledge
- ★ Give opportunities for students to debate the issues with pertinent and challenging questions so that students demonstrate they able to think critically
- ★ Provide wider reading lists and suggestions that is above Level 3
- ★ Refer to relevant crime related documentaries and drama which directly address some key aspects and deal with particular issues pertinent to the course
- ★ Model our own passion and love for the subject and ensure we introduce our deep knowledge
- ★ Embed retrieval practice

How you can support More Able and Talent Students at home

- ★ Debate and discuss current classwork and curriculum content at home
- ★ Debate and discuss news items relating to crime and ask students if it is relevant to the course
- ★ Encourage students to regularly and habitually revisit their work to embed deep learning
- ★ Encourage students to read the suggested reading list
- ★ Encourage students to watch crime related documentaries and drama which directly address some key aspects and deal with particular issues pertinent to the course